

Hiker in Hawaii
Lost for 17 Days
HOW I SURVIVED

Ashton Kutcher
WHY HE TESTIFIED
IN A SERIAL
KILLER TRIAL

Princess
Kate's
REGAL
MOMENT!

People

SAVE $3.00!
ON THIS ISSUE

CHIP GAINES

My Kids Made Me a Better Man

People
EXCLUSIVE

June 17, 2019

$2.99

The Fixer Upper star on how marriage and fatherhood changed him: 'Raising kids with Joanna is the honor of my life'

✈️ TRAVEL SPECIAL!

People pets

LIVING the SUITE LIFE!

Leaving your pet behind when you travel? At the establishments featured on these pages, you can get your I-miss-my-pup fix courtesy of the dogs, cats and birds—even a miniature horse!—that have made these hotels their fur-ever homes
By MADISON ROBERTS

* MARVIN

KIMPTON HOTEL VINTAGE SEATTLE Seattle

Acting as the “director of pet relations” at this pet-friendly boutique hotel, the 60-lb. Old English bulldog greets guests in the lobby and is always wandering around looking for snuggles and hip scratches. Owned by the hotel’s general manager, Marvin moved to Seattle after growing up on a farm in Indiana and can often be spotted in the hotel’s hallways playing fetch with visitors and a bacon-scented ball.

Marvin making himself at home on a Kimpton bed.

Hamlet greets guests in the lobby as they check in.

* HAMLET

THE ALGONQUIN New York City

This storied Manhattan hotel has had a cat in residence since the 1920s, when a stray named Billy checked in. Eight of the felines have been named Hamlet, after onetime resident John Barrymore’s greatest stage role. The current Hamlet—a rescue from a feral colony on Long Island—strolls the halls, getting brushings from guests and attending hotel events.

CLOCKWISE FROM TOP RIGHT: ADELA LEE, ALAMY